

McMillenHealth

EDUCATION • CURRICULUM • MEDIA

McMillen Health is a nonprofit organization that offers over 200 preventive health education programs taught by professional health educators, designed for students of all ages, abilities, and backgrounds. Since we opened our doors in 1981, we have grown tremendously in size and services.

McMillen Health now offers custom educational resources including videography; graphic design; and curriculum development locally, nationally, and internationally.

Each organization has a unique need for our services. Check out our generalized pricing sheet below. Prices and terms may vary depending on the needs of your project.
